Critical Thinking

On the back of this assignment or on a separate sheet of paper, compare and contrast supply and demand. Give 2 examples of how it affects our lives.

SUPPLY & DEMAND Worksheet

Question 1: Demand Shifters

Consider the market for cars. For each of the following events, indicate whether the demand curve for cars shifts to the right or left, or if it does not shift at all. Explain the direction of the shift.

- a change in car production technology, causing the supply of cars to increase
- a decrease in the price of cars, causing an increase in the quantity demanded
- a decrease in the price of cars, causing a decrease in the quantity demanded
- a decrease in the price of cars, causing an increase in the quantity demanded
- a decrease in the price of cars, causing a decrease in the quantity demanded

Question 2: Supply Shifters

Consider the market for cars. For each of the following events, indicate whether the supply curve for cars shifts to the right or left, or if it does not shift at all. Explain the direction of the shift.

- The price of steel increases. Steel is used to build car bodies.
- An increase in the number of car manufacturers.
- An increase in the price of steel, causing an increase in the quantity supplied.
- An increase in the price of steel, causing a decrease in the quantity supplied.

Supply and Demand Poster Project

Due Dates

- A Day: Friday, April 10
- B Day: Thursday, April 9

In class, we have discussed how concepts like supply and demand can affect production and consumption in a market economy. You, along with three other group members, will be creating a poster presentation that demonstrates these forces.

Instructions:

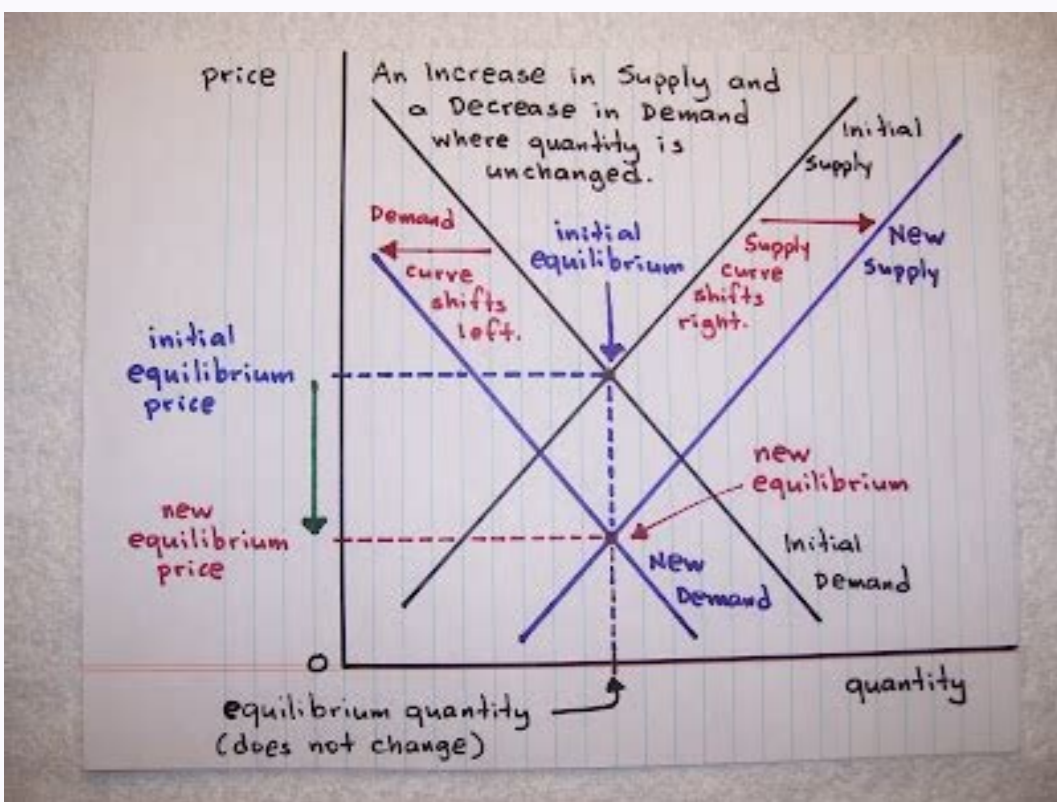

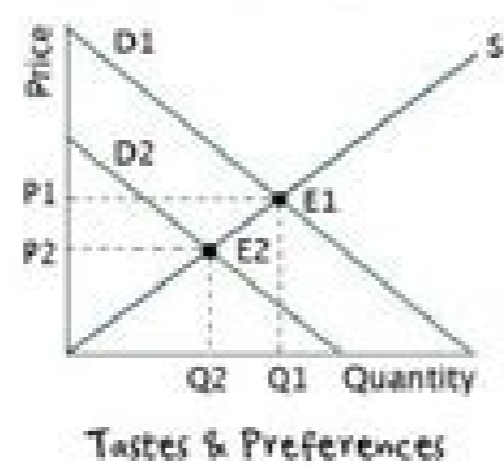

1. Choose a product of your own design (or one with which you are familiar), which would be affected by the dynamics of a market economy.
2. Make up four clearly stated headlines describing events that would result in a shift in demand. (You must cover all four of the factors listed below.) Draw a separate graph for each headline.
3. Make up four clearly stated headlines describing events that would result in a shift in supply. (You must cover all four of the factors listed below.) Draw a separate graph for each headline.
4. The graphs, headlines, and any accompanying information should be placed on posterboard material.

Factors Affecting Supply	Factors Affecting Demand
Costs of Production	Tastes and Preferences
Technology	Income
Taxes	Price of Related Substitutes
Quotas	Price of Related Complements

Each graph should contain:

- The name of the product.
- A headline affecting change in supply or demand. The headline should not explicitly state which factor is affected.
- A thoroughly labeled graph showing supply and demand shifts, equilibrium price 1 and 2, and equilibrium quantity 1 and 2.
- An explanation of the shift.
